AFICEP Technical Meeting « Latest News in the Field of Elastomers »

October 2021

(Date and place to be specified)

The serious health crisis that we are currently experiencing highlights many dysfunctions and shows us the limits of the industrial model that we have been using for several decades.

In this context, two elements are to be put forward:

- Firstly, we are becoming more aware of the importance of raw materials in the life cycle of our products and the fact that the current scarcity and supply difficulties are undoubtedly one of the consequences of our industrial policies.
- We are also becoming very aware of the importance of our ability to adapt and innovate, both from a technical and organizational point of view, to overcome these difficulties.

Like many industries, the elastomer industry has been strongly impacted by this crisis.

We have therefore decided to give you the floor during this future technical day so that you can give us your testimonies about this unprecedented situation.

Whatever your position in this sector, producers and distributors of raw materials, equipment manufacturers, designers, formulators, processors, academics, come and show us how innovation has made you more efficient and enabled you to bounce back.

In October 2021, you will have the floor on this topic. Do not hesitate to take it, and to fascinate us with your testimonies; this passion is the DNA of our association!

We are expecting many of you, if possible in a face-to-face format.

A big thank you in advance to all of you.

For the AFICEP,
